Brenda Dor-Groot - Harp

I am from the Netherlands and have been classically trained at the conservatories of Rotterdam, The Netherlands and Cologne, Germany. I went on to specialize in jazz, blues and improvisation.

I co-founded the International Jazz Harp Foundation and taught numerous workshops covering the basics of these for the harp quite unusual genres. I work to continually develop my unique individual teaching method, which incorporates classical technique & musicianship as well as improvisation, playing by ear, and chord and scale knowledge from the very start. Individual interests and personality of the student greatly influence the personalized lesson plan and choice of repertoire. My goal is to enjoy playing the harp, and become a versatile and confident player who can soon enjoy an even greater goal: making music together!
