Arianne Rooney - Horn | Trumpet

I was born in London but raised in Perth, Australia. Having rock musicians as parents I grew up in a very diverse musical family. My father taught me the drums from a very young age before I begged to take up the violin aged 9. I only discovered the Horn when I went to high school, a specialist music school called Perth Modern School, and I immediately loved it! When I realised I could play the horn for a living and one day teach others music was probably the best day of my life.

I went on to study at the Sydney Conservatorium of Music before moving back to London to complete my Masters of Music at the Royal College of Music. Whilst at the college I participated in sit-in-schemes with the Philharmonia Orchestra and the London Symphony Orchestra Brass Academy. Since graduating I have performed in a range of professional orchestras and ensembles, including the Welsh National Opera, Australian Chamber Orchestra's Barbican residency, performing at the BBC Proms with the National Youth Jazz Orchestra and theatre productions such as 'Les Miserables' and 'The Wizard of Oz'. I have also been fortunate enough to travel and perform in some amazing places such as Mumbai, Vienna, Berlin and Cologne.

I have been teaching the horn for over 5 years, and other brass for 3 years, and I absolutely love it! I have taught all levels from beginner to diploma level and cater each lesson to the student's needs. I am new to the Music Hub this year and very excited to be on board!
